eat before the commission." Collier that day said, "Yes, I think the gentlemen are correct."

Then Rep Rogers (D-Colo.), a member of Celler's committee, said the purpose was to let the commission hold truly closed-door sessions to protect innocent people from wild charges by witnesses who might appear.

In the heat of Senate debate, Subsection G was ignored until it was too late to do anything about it. Late Wednesday night, just before the bill's passage, Sen. Javits (R-NY) explained his own version of the intent of the penalty.

He did it for this reason: Judges read congressional debates on a law, when they're trying a case coming under that law, to learn if they can what Congress' intention was in approving a certain section or part.

Since the House and Senate debates nowhere was Subsection G was not intended to apply to newspapers, Javits, for the benefit of future judges, put in his own explanation.

He said Subsection G was aimed not at newspapers but only at members or employees of the commission to keep them from leaking closed-door information.

Whether this would mean anything to a judge remains to be seen.

Family Comes to Aid Holdout Rancher

ORO GRANDE, Nev. Mex. (UP)—Old John Prather today was joined at his Otero county ranch by 23 immediate relatives who have vowed to help stave off his eviction from the Mc Gregor Missile Firing Range.

The unarmed band of relatives, plus a constantly shifting group of friends and fellow ranchers, camped out last night by the Prather house.

By their presence, they hoped to discourage any further efforts by U. S. deputy marshals to carry out a court order calling for Prather's eviction.

But the most telling development in the long fight by the 82-year-old rancher to avoid selling his ranch for $209,000 to the government was taking place in Washington.

DOROTHY DIX

Brides Beware! Hubby May Have Jealous Sis

Dear Dorothy Dix, I've been happily married for a dozen years, with one thorn in my side—a sister-in-law. She is the most spoiled, immature, bratty I've ever known. She resents me and vents her spite in the most ridiculous ways. At least, they would be ridiculous, even funny, if her parents didn't swallow even the most absurd tales. As a "for instance" and I could give hundreds—she invariably rejects gifts from me on the ground that they don't suit the decor of her home; give her indignation or some other fool thing. I have yet to give her anything for which I've received appreciation, although neither her appearance nor her home rates her finicky attitude. Then, she tells her parents that "Flossie didn't give me anything!"

If I call her up, I'm interrupting something important. If I don't call, I'm neglecting her! My mother-in-law, and I would get along very well. I'm sure, if it were not for this despicable little wretch.

Dear Flossie, Sister-in-laws are traditionally the worst offenders in any in-law trouble. When an only son marries, his sister, there's usually trouble ahead. Here's why: A son who has contributed anything—money, help, chaffering or any service—in marrying leaves most of the catering to his sister, who doesn't particularly care for it. Further, more, sister is afraid someone may cut in on mom's favor—the brother's wife, for instance—and she'll stop at nothing to put the newcomer in a bad light. So, Flossie, you have several strikes against you and no chance for a fight.

The important thing is for your husband to understand. Since his sister's trickery is so blatant, he can't miss. Then, sister ignores her antics or, if you have good sense of humor, treat it as a joke.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My boy friend dates me once or twice a week. In between dates I often see him with another girl, but he says I'm mistaken. Is he lying?

BRENDA
Dear Brenda: On that you can rely! When a boy's attitude adds up to inconsideration, disloyalty, lying and deceit, what would you do? Right! Don't be "at home" when he calls. You, too, can get another beau.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My 16-year-old son is going steady with a girl the same age. I think mother is very remiss in letting the kids stay in the house evenings while she and her hubby go out. Don't you agree that this is wrong?

MRS. Y.
Dear Mrs. Y: Don't you think the mother of a boy has as much responsibility as the mother of a girl? One woman's negligence doesn't excuse lack of vigilance in another parent. Keep closer tabs on your son. Invite the girl to your house if her folks go out. You can put a stop to these cozy evenings. See that you do.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm in love with a wealthy widower in our town. I've been in love for nearly a year, although he doesn't even know me. How can I let him know how I feel about him? I know we'd be a very happy couple.

DESPERATE
Dear Desperate: You're in love with the surely the man could give. You can't possibly be in love with someone you don't know. You might have a crush on him but that's all. Surely a small town must offer some mutual contacts. Meet him, but don't declare your undying love immediately. He'll take the next jet out of town. You're a mature woman; try to act your age.

CHAPTER XXIII
I heard the door slam behind us. We turned. Cole, Jethro stepped down off the porch and came out to the street. Smiling, he said, "Any more questions, marshal?"

Blanchard nodded. "Plenty. But they'd be a waste of time. 'Then I thank you for your consideration. Just a word of advice, marshal. Barney's widow has had a hard time. You've seen the boy, of course. She has troubles enough without being involved in yours. Don't, perch on her doorstep."

Cole wheeled to leave. Blanchard said, "Just a minute.

Jethro. Cole stopped. Blanchard said, "If I want you, where might I find you?"

"At the hotel. If not there, no telling."

"One more thing. Next time you visit the Clements, tell them I want Dorsey alive and well, by tomorrow night at midnight. Have them send him in to the hotel to me. Tell them I'll put him on the train then and the whole thing will be over. If they don't do that, I'll have 40 men from the marshal's office out here on the next train. If they kill Pete, I'll stay in Blue Springs myself until I get the evidence to hang them, if it takes the rest of my life."

Blanchard's words, rubbed cold on my backbone. Only a crazy man would doubt that he meant it all. But Cole didn't bat an eye. Then a thin smile wrinkled the white skin around his mouth. He said, "Marshal, stop it. You can't drag me into this. Deliver your own messages."

Lillian came out onto the front porch. Blanchard walked to her and I followed. She looked down Depot St. where Cole Jethro was just turning the corner. Blanchard said, "What did he want?"

Lillian shrugged. "Nothing. Just wanted to say hello, to make sure we were all right, he said."

"What do you think he wants here?"

"I don't know. Cole is strange. I never got to know him well. He was very close to Barney. I think he resented my marrying him."

"Anything else?"

"He wants me to keep away from you. He said it was important that I have nothing to do with you."

"Lillian, I think Cole is running this thing. I think when he's over, he'll ask you to go back to Chicago with him."

"I'm not sure of that. Blanchard said, 'Don't worry about it.'"

Thought For The Day
When a man has not a good reason for doing a thing, he has one good reason for letting it alone — Walter Scott said it.

Calendar Of Events
Revival At Church Hill
Revival services will begin at Church Hill C. M. E. Church Sunday, August 11th, at 7:30 p. m. The Evangelist will be the Rev. C. S. Stearns, Pastor of BeBe.

If you don't want to go. If you need help, if you have anything to tell me, I'll be at the hotel, or Hevitt will know where I am.

Blanchard turned and walked into the street. I tipped my hat to Lillian and followed him. I walked at his side down Depot St. I started to hurt again in a lot of places. Half a block from the barn, I noticed a gray horse standing up in front of the livery, a line hanging from his halter, but not quite touching the ground, like he'd stepped on it and broke it off. It was the back horse Birch Crone had rented.

We came up to the horse. His legs were muddled and the pack saddle had loosened up some and he looked drawn up like he'd been running a lot. Then Owen came and took him inside, muttering under his breath about the shape he was in.

I said, "Rambeau and Crone might make fine evidence. That is, if you meant it about running down the Clements if they kill Dorsey."

"I meant it," Blanchard said. "What are the chances Rambeau and Crone are still hiding out around the basin? What would they do if they didn't get horses?"

"They could hitch a ride on the wagon road to the country seat. Couldn't stay there long, though. Clements got friends there."

"How much of a ride to the county seat?"

"A hard day."

"Afraid of that. Can't leave town that long. We'll have to figure they got out of the country. It's all right, Pike. Pete's alive and he'll be alive when I put him on that southbound train."

I sure hope you're right. Harney. Reckon I'll work a little now, if it's all right."

Blanchard grinned. "Don't work to hard, Pike," he said. "I've seen men in better shape."

I headed into the barn. Owen met me just inside the door. He jerked his head toward the loft. He said, "You got a visitor."

"Who?"

Owen just stared at me, his eyes excited. Then he waddled past and went into the harness room. I knew better than to try to get it out of his stubborn head if he didn't want to say. Him and his playful nature, I thought, I headed for the loft ladder and clambered up.

Sure enough, somebody had lit the lamp in my room. I walked over to the door and stepped inside. I had a visitor, all right.

Stood up, sat down or squatting. Dan Clement was big. Sitting in my chair, as he was now, he looked big as a mountain and a whole lot meaner.

Funny thing was, seeing Dan Clement there in my room, thought right away about the chair, summer-dry and not built for the likes of Dan. Then I wanted to cut and run but I knew he'd catch me at the loft ladder. I was in no shape to take another licking. I was sad then, on top of being scared, sorry the reckoning had to come so soon. Nothing to do but wait for it, my fingers tapping into my hands, sweat rising cool on my face.

Dan growled, "Sit down. Don't be a scared."

WHEREAS, the System is being operated, managed and maintained by the Hope Water and Light Plant Commission (hereinafter sometimes called the "Commission") which was created and organized pursuant to Act 115 of the Acts of the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas for the year 1957 and Ordinance No. 758 of the City of Hope, Arkansas, passed June 18, 1957; and

WHEREAS, the Commission by resolution has declared that it would be in the best interests of the City and the inhabitants thereof for needed extensions, betterments and improvements to be constructed and financed by revenue bonds, and has requested the City Council to join with it in approving said construction and the issuance of said revenue bonds; and

WHEREAS, there have been prepared plans and estimates by a duly qualified consulting engineer covering the proposed extensions, betterments and improvements, a brief general description of which is as follows: a new boiler and needed extensions, betterments and improvements to the System, all at an estimated cost of $250,000, which estimate includes engineering and other necessary expenses incidental to the construction of said extensions, betterments and improvements and to the issuance of revenue bonds to finance the same, which plans and estimates are on file in the office of the City Clerk and are subject to inspection by any interested person; and

WHEREAS, the City and the Commission do not have sufficient funds available to undertake the construction of said extensions, betterments and improvements, but can obtain the same by the issuance of revenue bonds; and

WHEREAS, the City has outstanding an issue of Water and Electric 1.89% Revenue Bonds dated April 1, 1948 issued under Ordinance No. 622, passed April 20, 1948, an issue of Water and Electric 2% Revenue Bonds dated September 1, 1950 issued under Ordinance No. 661, passed September 19, 1950, and an issue of Water and Electric 2%, 2 1/4%, 2 1/2% Revenue Bonds dated April 1, 1952 issued under Ordinance No. 689, passed March 18, 1952; and

WHEREAS, the earnings of the System over and above the requirements for maintenance, operation and depreciation are "net revenues" as defined by Section 12 of said Ordinance No. 622, passed April 20, 1948, and are more than the requirements of said Ordinance No. 622 for the issuance of additional bonds to finance betterments and improvements; the earnings for the immediately preceding fiscal year exceed the requirements of Section 13 of said Ordinance No. 661 passed September 19, 1950 for the issuance of additional bonds; and the earnings for the immediately preceding fiscal year exceed the requirements of Section 6 of said Ordinance No. 689 passed March 18, 1952 for the issuance of additional bonds; and

WHEREAS, the bonds presently proposed to be issued will rank on a parity with said outstanding Water and Electric Revenue Bonds and will be secured equally and ratably by the revenues of the System; and

WHEREAS, there has been duly advertised the public sale of an issue of $250,000 Water and Electric 4% Revenue Bonds, to be dated July 1, 1957, to bear interest at the rate of 4% per annum, payable semiannually on January 1 and July 1 of each year commencing January 1, 1958, and to mature on July 1 in each of the years 1962 to 1963, inclusive; and

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS:

That the City of Hope, County of Hempstead, and State of Arkansas, acknowledges itself to owe the City of Hope, Arkansas, and for value received hereby promises to pay to bearer solely from the special fund provided as hereinafter set forth the principal sum of in lawful money of the United States of America on the first day of July, 1957, and to pay solely from said special fund interest hereon at the rate of four per cent (4%) per annum from and semiannually on January 1 and July 1 of each year, commencing January 1, 1958, upon presentation and surrender of the annexed coupons, as they severally become due. Both principal and interest of this revenue bond are made payable at Worthen Bank and Trust Company, Little Rock, Arkansas.

This bond is one of a series of two hundred fifty (250) revenue bonds aggregating Two Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($250,000), dated July 1, 1957, numbered from one (1) to two hundred fifty (250), inclusive, all of like tenor and effect except as to number and maturity, and are issued for the purpose of providing for the payment of the cost of constructing extensions, betterments and improvements to the Municipal Waterworks and Electric System (which are operated as one project and which will be hereinafter referred to as the "System").

This bond and the series of which it forms a part are issued pursuant to and in full compliance with the Constitution and laws of the State of Arkansas, including Act 131 of the Acts of Arkansas of 1933, as amended, and Act 115 of the Acts of Arkansas of 1957, and pursuant to an ordinance of the City Council of the City of Hope, Arkansas, and a resolution of the Hope Water and Light Plant Commission, duly adopted, and do not constitute an indebtedness of the City of Hope, Arkansas within any constitutional or statutory limitation. The bonds are not general obligations of the City, but are special obligations payable solely from a fixed amount of the revenue derived from the operation of the System. The bonds are issued on a parity with the outstanding bonds of an issue of Water and Electric 1.89% Revenue Bonds dated April 1, 1948 and issued under Ordinance No. 622, an issue of Water and Electric 2% Revenue Bonds dated September 1, 1950 and issued under Ordinance No. 661, an issue of Water and Electric 2%, 2 1/4%, 2 1/2% and 2 3/4% Revenue Bonds dated April 1, 1952 and issued under Ordinance No. 689, and are secured equally and ratably by and payable from the revenues of the System. The amount set aside in said special fund shall be sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on all outstanding bonds of said April 1, 1948 issue, said September 1, 1950 issue, said April 1, 1952 issue and of this issue. Said amount has been duly set aside and pledged as a special fund for that purpose, which fund is identified as the "Water and Electric Revenue Bond Fund", and the City of Hope and the Hope Water and Light Plant Commission have fixed and have covenanted and agreed to maintain status for water and electric services which shall be sufficient at all times to provide for the payment of the expenses of operation and maintenance of the System; for the payment of the principal of and interest on all outstanding bonds as the same become due and payable, and the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds of said special fund for that purpose, in the event of separate depreciation funds in the required amount for necessary replacements.

The City of Hope and the Hope Water and Light Plant Commission hereby covenanted and agreed to maintain status for water and electric services which shall be sufficient at all times to provide for the payment of the expenses of operation and maintenance of the System; for the payment of the principal of and interest on all outstanding bonds as the same become due and payable, and the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds of said special fund for that purpose, in the event of separate depreciation funds in the required amount for necessary replacements.

The bonds of this issue shall be callable for payment prior to maturity in inverse numerical order of date and accrued interest on any interest paying date with funds derived from any source. Notice of the call for redemption shall be published once a week for two weeks before the date for such redemption in a newspaper published in the City of Little Rock, Arkansas and having a general circulation throughout the State of Arkansas giving the number and maturity of each bond being called, the first publication to be at least fifteen (15) days prior to the redemption date and after the date for redemption each bond shall cease to bear interest provided funds for its payment are on deposit with the paying agent at that time.

This bond shall not be valid until it shall have been authenticated by the certificate hereon duly signed by Worthen Bank and Trust Company, Little Rock, Arkansas. It is hereby certified, recited and declared that all acts, conditions and things required to exist, happen and be performed precedent to and in the issuance of this bond have existed, have happened and have been performed in due time, form and manner as required by law; that the indebtedness represented by this bond and the issue of which it forms a part does not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation; and that sufficient of the income and revenue which is deemed to be derived from the operation of the System has been pledged to and will be set aside into said special fund for the payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the City of Hope, Arkansas, by its City Council, and by the Hope Water and Light Plant Commission, has caused this bond to be signed by the Mayor and City Clerk and by the Chairman of said Commission, and sealed with the corporate seal of the City, and has caused the coupons hereto attached to be executed by the facsimile signatures of said Mayor and of the Chairman of said Commission, all as of the first day of July, 1957.

and necessary minimum rates to be charged and the Council and the Water and Light Plant Commission hereby confirm and continue said rates.

(2) That it is hereby covenanted and agreed with the holders of the bonds and coupons that said rates will produce a total revenue sufficient to pay the operation, repair and maintenance expenses of the System, to provide for the payment of the principal of and interest on all outstanding bonds, including the bonds of this issue, as the same become due and payable, and to provide depreciation funds for necessary replacements to the System. And it is hereby covenanted and agreed that said rates shall, from time to time when necessary, be increased to the extent necessary to provide for the above set forth purposes; provided, however, that whenever the total amount of all outstanding bonded indebtedness of the System has been reduced to sixty per cent (60%) of its original total or less, exclusive of interest, and there shall be made to appear to the Trustee that the earning capacity of the System is sufficiently large to justify it, a reduction may be made in the rates, with the consent of the Trustee, and to continue for such time as the Trustee in its sole discretion may deem consistent with the ability of the City to meet bond and interest payments promptly; provided further that no reduction in rates shall be made that will produce estimated net revenues after setting up necessary funds for operation, maintenance and depreciation of the System of less than one hundred twenty-five per cent (125%) of the average annual requirements for the payment of principal and interest on all Water and Electric Revenue Bonds then outstanding; and provided further that although a reduction may be granted, the original rates shall be restored upon the sole demand of the Trustee. The discretion of the Trustee shall be final, either as to granting, refusing or terminating any reduction in rates.

(3) That none of the services afforded by the System shall be furnished without a charge being made therefor. In the event that the City or any department, agency or instrumentality thereof shall avail itself of the services afforded by the System, the reasonable value of the services or facilities so afforded shall be charged against the City or such department, agency or instrumentality, and shall be paid for as the charge therefor accrues. The revenue so received shall be deemed to be revenue derived from the operation of the System and shall be used and accounted for in the same manner as the other revenue derived from the operation of the System; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be construed as requiring the City or any department, agency or instrumentality thereof to avail itself of the facilities or services of the System.

(4) That as above provided, the bonds issued hereunder shall rank on a parity with the outstanding bonds of the City of Hope Water and Electric issue dated April 1, 1948, the Water and Electric issue dated September 1, 1950, and the Water and Electric issue dated April 1, 1952, and are secured equally and ratably by and payable from the revenues of the System. Therefore, all provisions of the ordinances authorizing said outstanding bonds, being Ordinance No. 622, Ordinance No. 661 and Ordinance No. 689, and any provisions that are clearly inapplicable hereto, including, without limitation, those pertaining to the collection, handling and securing of revenues and funds, to the operation, maintenance and care of the System and its continued operation as a revenue producing undertaking without encumbrance, and those pertaining to the rights and remedies of the bondholders, are incorporated herein by reference as though fully set forth at this point.
